

VARDAGS PRESS PACK

Vardags is a world-renowned leading law firm, specialising in high net worth, complex and international cases to meet the full spectrum of their clients' legal needs, bringing City rigour to family law.

ABOUT VARDAGS

Led by Ayesha Vardag, "Britain's top divorce lawyer" and "the Diva of Divorce", Vardags has acted in many of the biggest cases to go through the family courts with several resulting in law-reforming, record-making victories. Our vision is making the law work for the global elite, providing outstanding strategic solutions with a blue-chip service.

Having made our name as the leading big ticket divorce law firm, we have now expanded our gold service to children law, reputation and privacy, criminal defence, civil disputes and property law. Vardags has five offices in London, Cambridge, Manchester, Oxford and Winchester, offering our bespoke services across the country, as well as internationally. We provide a cross-departmental problem-solving approach that is supported by our unique in-house client services, including our financial forensics team.

OUR EXPERTISE

Vardags lawyers are frequently called upon to comment in the media, bringing to bear their legal expertise and extensive experience working with the press. In addition to authoring articles for the national press, the team regularly appears in radio interviews and on live television. Reflecting on everything from infidelity during Covid to the impact of Brexit, Vardags has a broad, international media presence with a particular interest in issues related to divorce and family law alongside its social ramifications including no-fault divorce and non-disclosure in the family courts.
